Natural Forces introduces InvisiDye™

Davidson, NC – February 1st, 2010

Natural Forces introduces InvisiDye™, a new product designed to complement the existing line of ReJex-it bird repellents.

InvisiDye™ is a non-lethal avian training tool, that when mixed with Migrate, Feather Duster or other bird repellants, teaches geese and birds to avoid treated grass, plants and fruit by offering a visual warning.

Photo Caption: Grass treated with Migrate and InvisiDye™ looks unchanged to the human eye, however, geese and birds can see the difference in color. InvisiDye™ allows geese and birds to see where InvisiDye™ is applied and acts as a warning to avoid these areas.

Devlin Reynolds, President of Natural Forces, commented "InvisiDye combines years of research by the USDA Wildlife Services and other agencies into a training tool for geese and other birds. By mixing InvisiDye with Migrate, Feather Duster or other repellants, birds have the ability to immediately associate 'irritation' with the treated turf, plant or fruit. Natural Forces, with the ReJex-it line of products, is committed to finding innovative, non-lethal means of avian management. Invisidye is another step toward attaining these goals."
